

Fun Things to Do on a Snow Day...

1. Read a Good Book - Curl up in a snugly blanket and lose yourself in an exciting story. Reading can take you anywhere – just use your imagination.

2. Drink Hot Chocolate - Hot chocolate is perfect for a cold winter day. So, go heat up some hot chocolate, add some whipped cream, and put some marshmallows in, too. Then, it will be perfect!

3. Build A Snowman - Sure it sounds childish, but how often do you get a chance to build a snowman? You can make a snowman family, just one snowman, a small snowman, or a big snowman. The possibilities are endless!

4. Bake Something - Take some time to make some cookies, a cake, or even a pie! You can make it for your friends, your family, or just yourself!

5. Make A Snow Fort - Click here for instructions!

6. Take Pictures of the Winter Wonderland – Take a walk or look out the window and take photos of the snowy scenery around you. You can put them in an album with your sunny, summer beach photos!

7. Have A Snowball Fight! - It's a snow day and what's better than having a snowball fight? You can have one with your siblings, your family, your friends, or even with other people in your neighborhood. However you have one, just have fun, but make sure no one gets hurt.

8. Watch A Movie - Ahh, the perfect way to spend a snow day. Curl up on the couch and watch a good movie. Whatever you choose, it's a perfect way to spend a snow day. You can relax and drink some hot chocolate. Oh, and don't forget the popcorn!

9. Make Snow Angels! – It's easy and inexpensive! Just lay down in the snow and flail your arms and legs!

10. Break Out A Game! - Scene it!, Candyland, PlayStation, Monopoly, Wii etc.. Board games and video games are great for snow days! You can do a game tournament online with your friends.

11. Make Snow Ice Cream! - It's easy and delicious! Click here for instructions!

12. Go Sledding! - Get out the sled or the tube and hit the slopes! Just be careful.

13. Just Relax – You don't have school, so just relax! Chill out, listen to some music, and take it easy! Call or text your friends. :)
